Sahara unveils computers with Windows 7

Sahara Computers, the leading supplier of information communications and digital life style technology has announced the launch of their latest range of desktop computers and laptop computers based on Windows 7. Sahara's new PC range is now ready with Windows 7 and delivers fast, easy and spontaneous computing for home, office, education and business use.

Windows 7 is simply the best version of Windows from Microsoft and is designed to simplify everyday tasks and makes new things happen instantly. Live taskbar previews, fewer clicks, easy to connect, efficient search module, less power consumption, new touch screen feature, free internet TV option, improved memory commands and connecting to the available networks are some of the key features of Windows 7.

Sahara is committed towards delivering superior long term value to its consumers and its latest range gives the customer the choice of configuring their computer systems with Windows 7 Home Premium, Professional and Ultimate as per their specific application needs.

Windows 7 is intended to give PC's longer battery life (notebooks), utilizes less additional memory and runs on less powerful machines than Vista. Upgrading a PC is also made simpler with Windows 7 and it runs even better than a PC installed with Vista or XP. All hardware's gets installed correctly first time and no additional drivers are needed to get the computer up and running. Microsoft's popular programs such as Office, Outlook and Excel will work more efficiently with Windows 7.

Sahara's new PC range with Windows 7 delivers the highest quality operating system and offers faster boot time and advanced networking leading towards greater benefits to its end users. All Sahara desktops and laptop computers will be pre-installed with Windows Live essentials giving access to Microsoft services including MSN, Photo Gallery, Movie maker ,family safety ,sky drive, online personal storage and live mail for complete the entertainment.
